Featured Speakers:

Amori Mikami, PhD, Associate Professor
The University of British Columbia, Vancouver

Keynote: “Friendship Difficulties Among Children and Adolescents with ADHD: Why They Occur and How Parents and Teachers Can Address Them”

Breakout Session: “Helping Teens with ADHD Socially Navigate in the Digital World”

Kevin Antshel, PhD, Professor, Director of Clinical Training
Syracuse University

Keynote: “Adult ADHD: Assessment and Nonpharmacologic Treatment with Special Consideration of the College Student Population”

Breakout Session: “Assessing and Treating ADHD in College Students”

Additional afternoon breakout sessions address:

Neurobiological Aspects of ADHD
Sleep and ADHD
Issues in Medication Management
The Coaching/Therapy Continuum
Disentangling and Treating ADHD and Anxiety
Strategies for ADHD in the Classroom

This activity has been approved for AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™

The University of Pittsburgh is an affirmative action, equal opportunity Institution.
Continuing education credits for other professionals, including Act 48, are also available.

Additional information about this conference can be found on the OERP website:

www.wpic.pitt.edu/oerp/

The University of Pittsburgh is an affirmative action, equal opportunity institution.